

P.B. ADAMS KILLED IN ACCIDENT THURSDAY

It was learned, just as we were going to press, of the death of P.B. "Shorty" Adams, 59, who was killed instantly about noon. It is believed that the Catapillar dozer he was driving slid sideways in a snow bank and rolled over on him, crushing him to death. G.C. Griffen and Eli Kestie, who were working up the line, found Mr. Adams. He was employed by the Wheatland Irrigation District.
