

Violet Mae Dannar

1-9-1998

Funeral services for Violet Mae Dannar, 88, were held at the Platte Funeral Chapel Saturday, Jan. 13, at 1:30 p.m., with the Rev. Karin Wade officiating. Interment followed in the Wheatland Cemetery.

Mrs. Dannar died Jan. 9 at the Crestwood Convalescence Hospital in Redding, Calif.

Violet Mae Dannar was born March 17, 1901, the daughter of William F. and Lula M. (Peterman) Mickle of Plattsmouth, Neb. They moved to Washington when she was seven years old, and later to Rock River, Wyo., when she was 14. The family made all these moves by covered wagon. Violet was educated in Rock River and Laramie.

Violet married Ralph Dannar in Denver, Colo., in 1920. After their marriage they moved to Cheyenne. After living there several years, they moved to the farm just north of Wheatland in 1939. This is where she remained until 1973 when she moved to town where she lived until 1984, when she moved to Redding, Calif.

Violet was an active person in the community, belonging to VFW Auxiliary for 30 years, Moose Lodge Ladies, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary (lifetime member), Banner Rebekah Lodge No. 16, Royal Neighbors and All Saint's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Dannar is survived by a daughter, June Rickett of Redding, Calif., and a son, William "Bill" Dannar of Wheatland. Four grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, a sister, Grace Carter of Wheatland, and two brothers, Ralph Mickle of Phoenix, Ariz., and Ernest Mickle of Pollock Pines, Calif., also remain.

She was preceded in death by her husband, her parents and twin daughters.

Serving as pallbearers were George Good, Harold Garrett, Dempsey Dietz, Leo Preuit, Eldon Randall and Cleve Artery. A memorial fund has been established for the new Respiratory Wing at the Platte County Memorial Hospital in Wheatland.

Platte Funeral Chapel was in charge of arrangements.
