

Sandra Day

Sandra Day, 29, of Wheatland, died Nov. 29 at Colorado General Hospital in Denver, Colo.

Sandy Day was born May 4, 1949 in Bemidji, Minn., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Oesterreich. She spent her early years in Bemidji and moved with her family to Fargo, N.D.

She attended high school in Fargo and upon graduation, she attended the University of Wyoming, graduating in 1971. She taught school in Wind River the first year after graduation from college. She came to Wheatland and taught school from 1972-1976. She met her husband, Bud, while teaching here.

Sandy is survived by her husband, Gary "Bud" Day of Wheatland; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Oesterreich of Fargo, N.D.; one sister, Carol Artery of Wheatland; and her paternal grandfather, William Oesterreich.

Sandy was preceeded in death by her infant son, paternal grandmother, and maternal grandparents.

Services were held at the First Christian Church, Friday, Dec. 1, at 2 p.m. Father Sidney Hoadly officiated. Interment was in the Wheatland Cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Ted Berner, James Drucker, Sam Hoth, Terry Kleven, Floyd Guild, and Scott Jones.

A memorial has been established to the Platte County Public Library. Schrader-Prell Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.